Title: WARNING: Traffic ahead!

Caption:

My photo is taken at a nearby stream in Avondale, Auckland and shows the pressing issue of pollution in waterways. The cone and tyre are seen as traffic blocking the waterway and represents the difficulties marine life must go through and e.g. ingestion of debris. Also, the detail of wrappers and discarded bricks in the background of the photo illustrates the immense amount of rubbish in a single photo frame and makes us question 'Are we really environmentally sustainable when it comes to our NZ rivers?'
