

Our Actions , Our Future

Our future depends on our actions. Plastic packaging impacts life below water and equally good health and wellbeing. Plastics get carried to places such as the estuary in my photo. Albert Einstein said “we cannot solve problems with the same thinking we used to create them.” My photo shows an upside-down/perspective with different thinking every action we take can address this imbalance. I hope in my future I take a photo in this same location and see no evidence of plastic waste.
